SUMMER AUTOMOTIVE TIP

Checking your tires is crucial in the summer. Make sure that you have the correct tire pressure in all five tires. We suggest going by what your vehicle manufacturer recommends, which should be listed on the driver's side door, on the glove box compartment door, or in the owner's manual. Do not confuse the "maximum tire pressure" listed on the sidewall of the tire with the "recommended tire pressure" provided by the manufacturer of your vehicle.

Always check the condition of your tires' tread. The minimum acceptable tread depth is 3/32 inch. This is about the distance from the edge of a penny from the top of Abe's head. Keep an eye out for an uneven wear pattern. "Uneven" means the tire is worn on one edge. This usually means you need a wheel alignment. Also, run your fingers along the tread and feel for lumps. The presence of lumps mean that the tire is not balanced correctly.
